

ECON 890 Summer 2023
Homework 1

Assignment: Develop a project and project plan that you would like to execute with python. This can be anything that you think would be helpful for you and well-suited to python (e.g.: creating a personal website, scraping data, cleaning and restructuring or combining existing data sources, parsing unstructured text/image data with machine learning, replicating model estimation from a structural paper, etc.). The second half of the course will focus on executing your project plan.

Due date: Monday, July 31st
